The object of the Act is to ensure that any person who undertakes to carry out construction work under a construction contract is entitled to receive, and is able to recover, payment claims in relation to the carrying out of that work.
This information evening is designed to provide the foundation which should enable the attendees to understand the basic workings of the Act so as to allow them to make valid claims under the Act and to defend themselves against claims made under the Act. The evening will focus on the following topics:

1. An overview of the Act.
2. Progress claims and payment schedules.
3. The Adjudication process.
4. An Adjudicator's perspective of the Act
5. A lawyer's perspective of the Act

Presentations by David Campbell-Williams and Neil Turner, both IAMA Accredited Adjudicators with significant experience as Adjudicators, and in the preparation of payment claims, payment schedules, adjudication applications and responses, and Steve Goldstein, Barrister/Engineer specialising in building and construction disputes, particularly in relation to matters arising under the Act.
