

Have you considered being on a Victorian building or plumbing board?

You can play a part in improving Victoria's built environment!

The Victorian Government is committed to industry engagement and increasing diversity on the boards and advisory bodies.

Increased board diversity will support new thinking to complex problems and ensure government boards reflect our diverse communities.

The Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning on behalf of the Minister for Planning is:

- promoting board opportunities to talented candidates from all walks of life; and
- committed to increasing diversity on boards including the number of women, Aboriginal Victorians and people with a disability.

Upcoming opportunities exist for a range of building and plumbing boards.

Expression of interest open from March 2019 for four weeks!

Environment,
Land, Water
and Planning

Board members come from all walks of life, including small business owners, project managers and other professionals.

If you have experience in one or more of the following disciplines, you should consider contributing your skills on a building or plumbing board:

- Building or plumbing design and construction
- Building and construction law
- Consumer advocacy
- Public administration and governance
- Financial and commercial management
- Climate change adaptation
- Strategy and business management
- Infrastructure and project management
- Community engagement

Expressions of interest open March 2019.

For further information, please contact:

Yvette Baker
(03) 9637 8398

Applicants are required to register on Get on Board.

Environment,
Land, Water
and Planning