

Research shows that mental duress and strain is affecting 2 in 5 people in the workplace. Given the high pressure working environment throughout all sectors of the construction industry, and following WA Mental Health Week, raising awareness and improving industry support is particularly important.

SQUIRE
PATTON BOGGS

SoCLA members are invited to join us for

MATES General Awareness Training

Participants become aware of the signals that someone may be working through a difficult time, and how to help. This awareness may be vital in assisting a friend or colleague.

Followed by reflective conversation and networking over drinks and nibbles.

This 1 hour seminar is free.

MATES is a registered charity established in 2008 to reduce the high level of suicide across all sectors of Australia's construction industry. Members are invited to make a donation in kind via www.matesinconstruction.org.au.
