

Society of Construction Law Australia

and the

Young Constructors Committee

invites you to

The Present and Future of Collaborative Contracting

on 18 July 2018, 5:45pm for a 6pm start

at Clayton Utz, Level 18, 333 Collins Street, Melbourne

SoCLA's Young Constructors Committee presents a "campfire conversation" on 18 July 2018 between leading commercial and legal experts who will share their views and answer your questions on the present and future of collaborative contracting. The event will involve nuanced discussion of the benefits, challenges and future of so-called "collaborative" and "adversarial" contracting, by reference to commercial and legal drivers, project performance and recent endorsements of collaborative contracting by government.

The panel includes the following leading professionals from the construction industry:

Andrew Stephenson | Partner, Corrs Chambers Westgarth

Marko Misko | Partner, Clayton Utz

Ekaterina Tchernova | RPS Advisory Services

Membership with the SoCLA is not required. We welcome all who want to attend this exciting event.

If you wish to attend, please RSVP using the register tab on this page.

As it is a "first in, first served" event, please submit your RSVP as soon as possible.